Built heritage of the town art works displayed at public places

Public spaces in our town are enriched by new creations year by year. Statues and fountains designed by reputable Hungarian artists make the streets of the town more colourful. One of the highlights is the Kossuth statue group of national importance, which used to be displayed in Budapest, at the square in front of the Houses of Parliament. A detailed history of the statue group is available at the Medieval tower for dwelling explored at Szigeterdő. Copies of the tourist map of the town – also showing art works displayed at public places – are available at our Tourinform office.

“Green programs” – Go out and enjoy nature!

According to research findings, seated work is the new “smoking habit”, as office workers are more exposed to obesity, cardiovascular diseases, and early death. Work takes up much of people’s time and energy, therefore sports do not form part of everyday life.

Avoid diseases caused by a lack of exercise, and put more emphasis on active relaxation while on holiday!

Nature protection areas

The town pays special attention to the preservation of nature protection areas and values, which offer perfect surroundings if you want to escape from the hustle-bustle to the tranquility of nature. You can marvel at the treasures of nature from different points of view when riding a bike, with Nordic walking poles in the hands, or hiking boots on.

For more information on nature protection areas and values, please visit the website at www.kondavolgy.hu. Orientation in the Konda Valley is also assisted by QR code service, with connection to a website by using a mobile application to get more information on the area.

Ride a bike!

The promotion of cycling plays a prominent part in Dombóvár to save the environment and to protect people’s health. This is also demonstrated by the fact that our town was awarded the title ‘Cyclist Friendly Settlement’ in various years.

Due to a number of positive effects, cycling plays an important part both in health promotion and the treatment of diseases. In addition, while cycling, you can marvel at values of nature that you would not even notice by driving a car. Ride a bike and explore our little town on two wheels!

DID YOU KNOW THAT...?

The first composition by Sebestyén Tinódi Lantos, titled Jason and Medea, was produced at the Castle of Dombó. The place and date of birth of Tinódi is uncertain: he was probably born sometime between 1505 and 1510 at a settlement named Tinód. After finishing school, he took his chance as a soldier at the service of Bálint Török at Szigetvár. Afterwards he got to Dombó Castle (Gólyavár), which came to be owned later on by Imre Werbőczy. In the 1530s, his hand was injured in a battle against the Turks, so he was incapacitated as a warrior. He stayed at the castle until he recovered and according to sources, it was here that he composed his first work, the romance of Jason and Medea. His memory is perpetuated by the Tinódi Statue erected at Hunyadi Square and the Tinódi House named after him.

Jenő Buzánszky, a player in the legendary Hungarian Golden Team, was born at Újdombóvár on 4 May 1925. Having been 49 times on the Hungarian national team, he made history as a quarterback in the Golden Team both in Hungarian and international sports terms. He qualified for the best team in the world at that time as the only player from the countryside. He started his football career at the age of 13 on the Dombóvár Vasutas team; in 1952, he was member of the Olympic champion team; in 1953, he participated at the Britain vs. Hungary match called as the match of the century; on the 1954 World Cup, he and his team gained a silver medal; and in 2011 he was elected Sportsman of the Nation. Always remaining a Dombóvár citizen in his heart, the former right quarterback passed away at the age of 89. The house where he was born can be viewed in Fő utca, Újdombóvár.

The eponym of the cake known and much liked by many, Rákóczi cottage cheese cake, is not Prince Ferenc Rákóczi II, but confectioner and master chef János Rákóczi, who was born at Felsőleperd, near Dombóvár. He was the one to introduce this cake to the public at the Brussels World Fair in 1958. Visit one of the confectioneries at Dombóvár, and taste one of the "most Hungarian style" desserts made from quality ingredients according to the original recipe!
